

Case 12 – Oesophagus, Medium

Diagnosis – Traction diverticulum

Traction diverticula are more often solitary and arise when scar tissue adjacent to the oesophagus distorts it, often this is related to an adjacent lymph node. They classically occur in the mid oesophagus but again may arise anywhere.